Providing companies such affordable access to top talent is the ultimate goal of our company. We help businesses compete in other markets, increase profitability and enhance corporate governance.

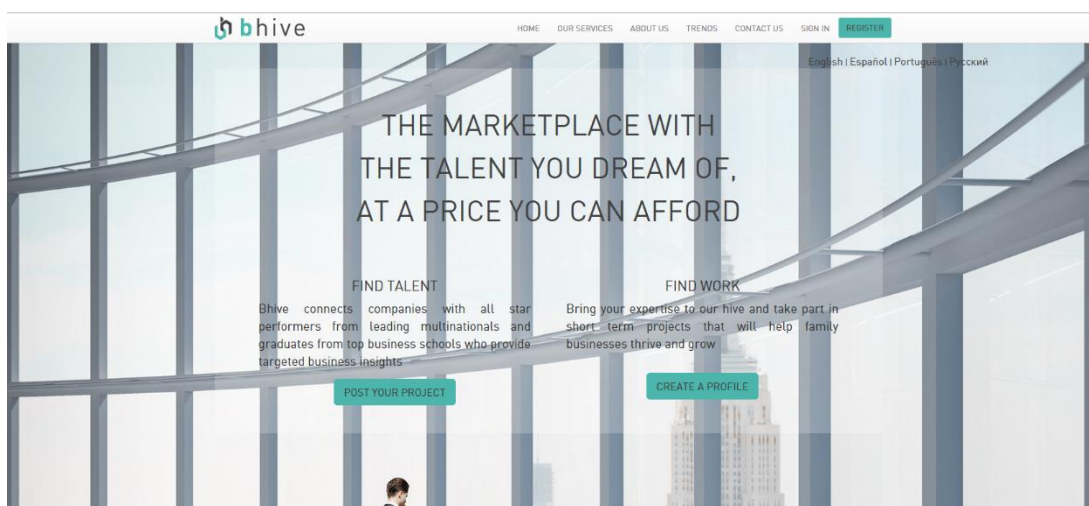

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF STUDENT PROFILES - MBA OFF-CYCLE INTERNSHIP (12 WEEKS)

You will be required to dive with us into the world of platforms for a 12 weeks roller-coaster ride, helping the management team to conquer new markets and evangelize freelance consulting on the global scale. You will be working in an utterly diverse environment of entrepreneurs, scattered across Singapore, Austria, Colombia, Argentina and the US. You will get a chance to try yourself in entrepreneurship and find out from your own experience why more and more people leave banking and consulting for startup'ing. On top of that you will touch base with the growing trend in the consulting industry that McKinsey predicted back in 2007 and finally proved its' tremendous success in 2015. bhive is growing not in a single region, but is developing globally with a strong focus in Latin America. As a result of this exponential growth upon the completion of your internship you can have a chance to secure a longstanding management relationship with our platform (subject to conditions). We have a number of countries in the pipeline, which requires extra attention and ideally a dedicated personality. Up for a challenge?! Roll up your sleeves and welcome to the team, mate!

CupoNation was created in 2012 with the support of the famous online business incubator Rocket Internet. The first country where the model launched was India, followed by Brazil and Poland. The idea was to replicate from a US business model, where one out of ten transactions online are through discount codes.

In March 2013, cuponation.es landed in Spain thanks to Pedro Claveria, supported by the central structure based in Munich, Germany. Cuponation.es started as a personal project by its founder and now its offering discounts on more than 200 brands online.

In October 2014 CupoNation SL was finally created, to keep developing CupoNation brand in Spain. Today CupoNation SL has its headquartered in Madrid, a team of 22 employees working in the markets of Spain, Italy and Latin America ... To consolidate its growth the company has strategic alliances with "Il Corriere della Sera" for expansion in Italy and Grupo Prisa for the Spanish market and next internationalization to Latin America.
