EXECUTIVE EDUCATION

IE Law School's Executive Education programs offer training for professionals in the legal and tax sector, based on the academic excellence and innovation of the School.

In today's revolutionizing legal market, the way in which the law is taught and practiced makes a difference. Our courses are designed to provide and empower students with the necessary tools of specialization, leadership and innovation so that they become leaders in the Spanish and International legal markets.

Our close relationship with IE Business School for more than 35 years gave us the ability to integrate management workshops into our programs, including direction, negotiation and coaching skills – among others – so that participants acquire all the necessary knowledge and abilities to work more efficiently with their clients and understand the corporate world with breadth of vision.

Our professors offer a practical, applied, and international perspective that is up to date with current events. Our faculty's vision and experience enables us to respond to the global and complex challenges that lawyers are facing today.

The participants of our programs are professionals with an average of 5 years of experience in their fields, which enables them to contribute with meaningful experiences to the group and engage in constructive discussions during classes.

A WORD FROM THE DEAN ▼

Dean IE Law School

IE Law School is known for its cutting-edge approach to legal education and for the excellence of its graduates. Being faithful to ourselves requires a constant commitment to innovation to help our students succeed in a rapidly changing world.

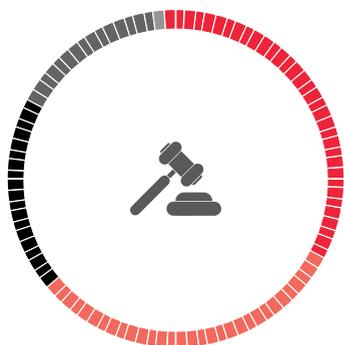

Legal practice is increasingly global, multidisciplinary and technological; the entrepreneurial movement is reshaping legal practice in extraordinary ways and global society faces challenges of special kind and consequence. Lawyers must be ready not just to adapt to these trends but also be able and willing to drive change.

To achieve that aim, our programs make sure that students develop the right set of core skills. A global mind-set can only be acquired if students are confronted both with the need to solve complex, cross-border legal cases by working in multidisciplinary teams within the classroom and with real exposure to the practice of law. Developing an entrepreneurial spirit requires both mastering technical skills and applying them to real projects through a hands-on approach. The opportunities that the technology revolution brings can only be harnessed if students develop the right set of skills and learn how to apply them to make a difference in the practice of law.

This is why all our programmes, whether at undergraduate, postgraduate or executive education level, follow the same fundamental vision. We invite you to explore the school and experience how innovation drives the legal world.
