

London School of Economics Summer Program '24

July 6—July 28

IE UNIVERSITY AND LSE CUSTOMIZED SUMMER PROGRAM

This Summer, study at LSE, London's top university, ranked 5th in the world for social sciences and management subjects, through our IE University and LSE Summer Program.

This Summer Program between IE University and LSE offers current IE University undergraduate students the opportunity to enroll in a three-week summer program hosted at LSE Campus in the heart of London, UK.

The Three-Week Program

Lectures taught by LSE Faculty will run during the morning. After a lunch break, students will have specialized seminar sessions with LSE Faculty to allow extra time to dive into the material. In the evenings, students are free to enjoy life at the LSE campus in the heart of London or to join one of the extracurricular activities hosted by IE or LSE.

Arrival &Departure

July 7 – July 27, 2024.

Course Dates

Monday, July 8 – Friday, July 26,2024.

The Courses

The courses are delivered by LSE Faculty. Upon completion of the course, students will receive two certificates: one from IE University and one from LSE. Both courses are equivalent to 7.5 ECTS.

Power shift: the West, the Brics and the Crisis of the Liberal International Order?

At the beginning of the 21st century the world stood on the cusp of what most experts assumed would be a golden age of international peace and prosperity. But the crises of the following 23 years – including financial crises, climate change, the rise of populism, more assertive powers in Russia and China – have altered the balance of power. Pundits even began to talk of a new world disorder in the making. But how have all these major changes come about? What has been their impact on international affairs? Is the West in decline and are we heading toward a new world order?

Management and Economics of Digital Innovation

Digital innovations transform the ways in which companies and individuals create and share information, offer innovative value creation propositions, define new economic patterns, and make possible unique business models. This is a management course, and not a technical one. It focuses on the effective application of digital innovations in business. Students will gain a good understanding of how successful companies are taking advantage of digital innovations, as well as an understanding of the main challenges and risks associated with digital innovations models and strategies.
